

The Oxford Revue

White Belly
Smirnoff Underbelly

August 3rd-27th 5.55pm

Following four sell-out productions already this year, THE OXFORD REVUE return to Edinburgh for another summer of comedy capers. Look forward to side-splitting sketches, monologues and musical fun from Oxford University's prestigious comedy sketch group.

THE OXFORD REVUE was originally devised by Michael Palin in the 1950s as a vehicle for taking student comedy performers to the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, and the festival remains the highlight in THE REVUE's year. Over the years THE REVUE has spawned the careers of some of today's household comedy names including Dudley Moore, Lee & Herring and Al Murray. In May this year THE REVUE had the pleasure of working with another distinguished alumnus, Armando Iannucci.

THE OXFORD REVUE will be at the White Belly, Smirnoff Underbelly from August 3rd-27th (previews August 3rd and 4th). Tickets are £4-8 and are available from the Underbelly Box Office on 0870 745 3083 or online at www.edfringe.com and www.underbelly.co.uk.
